

Women Inspiring Women

Meet Joan Biagi

At 94, Joan Biagi is still feeling the fun in life. Her family is the best part of her days and her granddaughter Stacey Biagi calls her every morning to make sure she is up and at 'em! Joan was born and raised in Cazadero and was a Sonoma County Clerk for 23 years. She raised two boys and is very proud of her children and their families, especially her five grandchildren. She enjoyed serving her community many years ago when she would help transport disabled people in Sonoma County.

Joan names her mom and dad as the most inspirational people in her life because they taught her how to be humble, happy and hardworking. The greatest thing her folks did for her was to move the family to Santa Rosa in 1940. She is grateful that she later married into a kind-hearted Italian family that continues to gather weekly for a delicious Italian pasta dinner.

Her motto is, "Just be happy," which Joan continues to do every day with the help of her caring family.

STACEY BIAGI